What is NUANS:

- NUANS (Newly Upgraded Automated Name Search) is a computerized search system that compares a proposed corporate name or trade-mark with databases of existing corporate bodies and trade-marks. This comparison determines the similarity that exists between the proposed name or mark and existing names in the database, and produces a listing of names that are found to be most similar. **
- You may elect to order your NUANS name search report with the assistance of a NUANS Registered Search House. If you elect to order your NUANS report this way, the Search House will provide you with professional assistance, which may include advice, recommendations and other related services. The Search House will also have the ability to provide you with NUANS report types of other jurisdictions. Report prices and method of payment will vary from Search House to Search House. **
- The NUANS approach is to automate the name searching function by having a program with enough "intelligence" to consider all possible criteria for confusion between proposed and existing names. In simple terms, NUANS is a large computer program which provides a complete search, regardless of the name formulation. There are certain programs which perform the phonetic searching, and others do more direct searching dependent on the length of the words. There is a NUANS Dictionary which is composed of descriptive words, a synonym table, and other features to allow a user to enter additional name spellings when inputting a name to be searched **

Why Do You Need a Name Search:

- Clearly Establish the Availability of your Proposed Business Name
- Compare your Proposed Name to Names already Registered across Canada
- Registering a name that is already in use will in all likelihood result in a legal action against you.
- A successful business name has considerable resale value and registering such name will enhance its value
- A Good business name can be an effective Advertising tool

Excerpts from.....

"http://www3.gov.ab.ca/gs/information/clctc/reg_bus_name.cfm"

- "An incorporated name must contain a legal element, while a trade name or partnership name cannot"
- "Another difference between a business name and an Alberta corporation name is that a corporation name is only granted once"
- "A difference between a registered corporation and a trade name or partnership, is that the trade name or partnership is not a distinct legal entity".

"Five criteria to keep in mind when naming your company:
 A name must be distinctive, credible and memorable.
 The name must not cause confusion with any existing name or trademark.
 The name must include a legal element.
 The name must not include unacceptable terms.
 The name should be transcultural."
